TAX DIVERSION
REPEALER PUT UP TO VOTERSSENATE REVERSED
ON SALES LEVY
AMENDMENT

Lansing, May 20 (AP)—The Senate suddenly today reversed three previous ballots and voted to re-submit the sales tax diversion amendment to the people.

Without warning, the Senate suspended its rules by a two-thirds majority under a call of the chamber and passed a House sales tax repeal proposal which it defeated Feb. 18 in the first setback of Governor Sigler's initial fiscal program. Since then the Senate has defeated a repeal proposal of its own twice.

The House resolution adopted today was amended to place the question before the voters at the November, 1948, general election. Since it had been passed by the House and previously defeated in the Senate for the April 7, 1947 election, the resolution must go back to the House now for concurrence in the new election date.

Skids Well Greased
Senator Bion L. Bates, Ovid Republican, led the floor fight to put the repealer on the ballot, but the skids obviously were well greased. The vote to suspend the rules and reconsider the three-months old defeat of the measure was 24 to 8 and the resolution was passed by a 23 to 9 vote.

The resolution was defeated in February by a 17 to 11 vote. The Senate's own resolution failed by three votes last Thursday.

Those who switched ground today to put the matter before the people a second time were Senators Burrill, Clothier, Gribbach, Reid, Schuch and Wright.

A scheduled vote on the administration's bill to "control" lobbyists was delayed by administration leaders in the senate, with some asserting that resentment among the members was high at Governor Sigler for declaring yesterday his programs were being sabotaged by Frank D. McKay, Grand Rapids political leader.

Pet Bills Watched
There were reports some senators were withholding their support until they see whether Sigler signs their pet bills.

The Senate voted to end the secret primary by requiring a return to the two-party primary ballots with the voters forced to declare his party affiliation. The House had approved a bill to place the separate party tickets on either side of the same ballot to preserve secrecy and still reduce the number of ballots.

The Senate also approved a House bill reducing the penalty for negligent homicide from a felony to a misdemeanor.

A House bill was voted in the Senate which would increase salaries in the Grand Rapids police court, boosting the justice from $5,000 to $6,500, with three-fifths of half the cost charged to the city, the court clerk from $2,750 to $4,000 with the same distribution of costs, and the bailiff from $1,900 to $3,000 and to provide for him also acting as deputy clerk. The bill provides for a court stenographer at a salary of $4,000 a year, two-fifths of it to be paid by the city.

Battle On Gas Tax
The House, which last week rejected a proposal to increase the gasoline tax from three to five cents per gallon, was slated for a renewal of the long and bitter debate when the roads and bridges

Further Foreign Aid
Held Up For Report
From Global Survey

BY EDWARD E. BOMAR

Washington, May 20 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall disclosed today the administration has put off decisions on further foreign aid programs, such as the $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish measure, until it completes a global survey of postwar needs.

The survey, first of its kind, is being made by a new policy group set up by Marshall. It is headed by George F. Kennan, diplomatic expert on Russian affairs.

Marshall also told a news conference:

1. He does not agree with suggestions from London that developments in the Mediterranean mean a shift in military responsibilities there from Britain to the United States.

2. He favors a very urgent and prompt allocation for Italy from the current $350,000,000 foreign relief fund.

Marshall said that with the exception of some $78,000,000 plan for Korea he foresees no further appropriations for foreign aid at present.

He said he is not prepared to say now, however, what may be required to help other nations in the future.

And he reported that the state department is trying to find some way to help troubled China which could be fully justified to the American people and Congress.

Marshall said the $78,000,000 fund for Korea would be devoted to rebuilding industries, roads and rails in the American zone. The country is now split in half, with Russian troops occupying the northern area while U. S. forces occupy the south.

CHINESE MOBS
DEMAND PEACEGen. Chiang Says First Move Must Come From Communists

BY SPENCER MOOSA

Nanking, May 20 (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek declared today it is up to the Communists to make the first move toward ending China's civil war, as a few feet outside the conference hall police and 6,000 defiant students battled with fire hoses, bamboo canes, stones and fists.

Martin Chen, an Associated Press correspondent, mistaken for a student, was beaten by police and some 60 police and students were injured.

Chiang, beset with new demands for peace, new student troubles and new military setbacks, declared the government is ready to end China's civil war "if the Communists will show their sincerity by deeds."

He defined the deeds as "merely to abandon their attempt to seize power by armed force, to halt their military operations, and to abide by agreements for restoration of nationwide communications."

A truce embracing all of those points was signed by the government and Communists 16 months ago but quickly was violated and the civil war increased in intensity. Each side accused the other of having signed with no intention of living up to the agreement.

As Chang addressed the People's political council, a solely advisory body holding its final session, the 6,000 defiant, striking students demonstrated outside. They sought futilely to present to the council their demands for increased food allowances—many are partially government supported; 15 per cent of the national budget for education, and immediate cessation of the civil war.

More Bills Become
Laus At Lansing,
Signed By Sigler

Lansing, May 20 (AP)—Governor Sigler today signed into law bills to:

- Broaden state power to regulate insurance rates to avoid imposition of similar federal controls.
- Require the State Conservation department to use funds resulting from the sale of timber from tax-reverted land for reforestation only north of the Bay City-Muskegon line.
- Repeal the malt tax.
- Include the patient himself in a law specifying the persons who may be charged for the care of insane patients.
- Permit cities with a population of 80,000 to change the name of justice court to municipal court.
- Increase the salary of the state agricultural director from $7,000 to $7,500 yearly.

Senate Debates Tax
Cut Of Four Billion

Washington, May 20 (AP)—A bill to cut individual income taxes $4,000,000,000 a year was called up for Senate debate today, while moves developed in the House to keep social taxes from rising.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the finance committee (R-Colo.) of the Senate's unanimous consent to take up the income tax legislation.

Actual debate, however, was put off until tomorrow.

At that time, Senator George (D-Ga.) has announced, he will make a motion to postpone action until June 10, in order to give Congress a look at all the appropriation bills for next year. He thinks they all will have cleared the House appropriations committee by that time.

Both Millikin and Senator Taft of Ohio, the Republican policy committee chairman, told reporters they are confident they have enough votes to beat the George motion. Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic whip, said there is an "excellent chance" it will carry.

Millikin and George said the motion probably could be brought to a vote by Thursday; Lucas estimated Friday or possibly Monday.

Democrats say they want to delay the cutting taxes until the government's financial picture is clearer.

The Senate bill would have tax cuts of 10.5 to 30 per cent begin July 1. The bill which the House has passed would date back the cuts, in a similar range, to January 1.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.), chairman of the House ways and means committee, proposed today a two year freeze of the social security tax at the present rate of one per

RAINS HANDICAP
SPRING SEEDINGMichigan Oat Crop Cut
In Half By Weather;
Plowing Late

(By The Associated Press)
Citing spring rainfalls half a foot above normal in many sections, Michigan crops experts Tuesday reflected the gloom of farmers unable to prepare their soil for seeding.

Professor Roy Decker, of the Michigan State college farm crops department, reported the state's total production volume cut by more than half, truck gardens seriously delayed, and corn fields still unplowed with planting days just ahead.

Southern Michigan, which claimed most of the state's 1,800,000 corn acres last year, normally plants corn between May 15 and 25 with northern areas a few days behind, Decker said.

"If they don't plant on time they're likely to get wet corn late in September," Decker pointed out.

"It's too late now for oats and farmers will have to turn to more corn if they can ever get on their soggy fields."

Less than half of a normal 1,500,000 acres in oats was seeded this year and the normal 190,000 acres of barley has been sharply cut because of the rainfall, he said.

TRUMAN WILL REMAIN WITH
SICK MOTHERPRESIDENT CARRIES ON WORK FROM MISSOURI

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO
Grandview, Mo., May 20 (AP)—President Truman's ill mother put on another one of her surprising rallies tonight.

Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the president's personal physician, reported at 9:30 (CDT) that 94-year-old Mrs. Martha E. Truman "was feeling better than she had in the last three or four days."

The surprising announcement came after the president himself had said earlier his mother was "weaker" and sorrowfully added she "didn't have a very good day."

Secretary Charles G. Ross relayed Graham's report at a news conference.

Despite the rally, Mrs. Truman's condition still is grave.

Ross surprised newsmen by walking into their press room tonight to say:

"Mother Truman seems to have put on quite a rally tonight. General Graham says she is feeling better than she has in the last three or four days."

Eats Fried Chicken
Her heart, while weak, was "stronger than it was this morning," Ross quoted Graham as saying. "She has much fight tonight and much determination."

The president's mother, who suffered a relapse last weekend while recovering from a hip fracture, called for fried chicken, gravy and mashed potatoes for "supper" tonight and ate well, topping off the meal with a glass of milk.

Mrs. Truman's temperature was about normal, and her heart while weak was "stronger than this morning," Ross said.

The president has made arrangements to carry on the affairs of his office from Missouri indefinitely. Tentative plans were being made for him to sign the $400,000,000-Greek Turkish aid measure in his hotel headquarters at Kansas Thursday morning.

The president is working on official papers and reports, both at his mother's home and in the Kansas City hotel where he spends the night.

His personal secretary, Miss Rose Conway, was called into the Grandview home this morning and afternoon for executive work.

Presidential secretaries Matthew J. Connelly and Charles Ross are conducting operations at the hotel to keep the president in constant communication with Washington over an elaborate telephone and teletype communications setup.

Major General Harry H. Vaughan, the president's military aide; Rear Admiral James F. Foss, his naval aide, and Jack Romagna, his official short hand expert, are in his party here.

Western Pacific
Express Wrecked;
Crewmen Injured

Oakland, Calif., May 20 (AP)—Four crewmen were injured today as a Western Pacific locomotive hit an obstruction on the tracks at Decoto, 20 miles southeast of here.

The most seriously injured were Engineer Ray Cope, 57, of San Jose, and Fireman R. C. Kennedy, 41, of Stockton.

Cope said the locomotive "turned end over end" as it hit a concrete block. The engine was demolished.

The other injured were John McCann, 54, San Francisco, a news agent, and Ruel Packard, 53, San Francisco, baggage man.

All four were treated for cuts and bruises. None was in critical condition.

Mother, 79, Believes
Amelia Earhart Was Taken Jap Prisoner

New York, May 20 (AP)—The mother of Amelia Earhart, unheard from since she radioed for help while over the Pacific ocean during a round-the-world flight in 1937, said tonight the missing flier was on a secret government mission and was believed taken prisoner by the Japanese.

Mrs. Amy Otis Earhart, 79, of Boston, explained in an interview over radio station WOR that she was discussing publicly for the first time the disappearance of her daughter 10 years ago.

Mrs. Earhart said her daughter was on a government mission "so secret that it was even kept from me," and added:

"I think my daughter landed and was taken prisoner of the Japs. I have letters, documents and messages addressed to me that convinced me thoroughly that she landed on land."

Grand Jury Indicts
65 In Kansas City
Vote Steal Frauds

BY KENNETH CLARK

Kansas City, May 20 (AP)—The Jackson county grand jury today indicted 26 more persons—bringing the total to 65—on charges related to vote fraud in last August's primary election. Almost simultaneously Senator Kem (R-Mo) charged in the Senate that Attorney General Tom Clark had been derelict in his duty.

"Vote frauds on a large scale have again occurred in my home city of Kansas City," Kem told the Senate, "and apparently there has been a dereliction of duty on the part of the attorney general of the United States in failing to prosecute the guilty persons."

Kem made public a letter from Clark, dated last Feb. 10, in which the attorney general told Kem that "a careful and thorough review" by the Federal Bureau of Investigation had disclosed "no evidence of a federal violation" in the Kansas City primary.

The Missouri senator referred to Missouri's fifth congressional district Democratic primary last August 6 in which Enos Axtell, endorsed by President Truman and the Pendergast organization, defeated Rep. Roger C. Slaughter and Jerome Walsh.

The official count gave Axtell a majority of 2,771 over Slaughter. Axtell lost to Albert L. Reeves, jr., a Republican, in the general election.

Axtell was running in a district adjacent to President Truman's home congressional district.

Kem told the Senate that Axtell was backed by the "ruthless and corrupt" Pendergast machine which, he declared, "rules Kansas City in strict gangster fashion."

Two of the 26 persons indicted pleaded innocent late today upon arraignment before Circuit Judge John R. James.

They were Dexter Perry of Independence, and Nathan Price, Kansas City, Democratic election judges.

Both were charged with "changing the true and lawful result of an election by making a false return."

SOLONS RESENT
SIGLER CHARGESenators Take Floor
To Scorn Slaps At Frank McKay

Lansing, May 20 (AP)—A Democratic and a Republican senator took the floor in the Senate today to scorn governor Sigler's charge that Frank D. McKay, former Republican national committeeman, was influencing the legislature to confuse the administration's program.

Senator Joseph A. Brown, Detroit Democrat, declared in a statement of personal privilege:

"I do not want this story in the newspapers to go unchallenged. I resent what was said. It is an unwarranted attack on my colleagues. The general idea of the story in the papers is that Mr. McKay is using his influence here and by inference that there were suspicious circumstances in the way he used that influence."

"In my opinion the governor has never given us a fiscal program, unless it's up in the air—at this point he was stopped by Lieut. Gov. Eugene C. Koyes and Brown ended 'I have a lot of confidence in my 28 Republican colleagues.'"

Senator James C. Quinlan, Grand Rapids Republican, said "I have no apologies or defense to offer but the gentleman cited comes from my district. I have known Frank McKay for a long time. I went to school with him. I do not like that kind of publicity. Mr. McKay has been in Florida all winter and I haven't seen him for a long time."

Justice Too Quick
Charges Reopened
For Michigan Lifer

Adrian, Mich., May 20 (AP)—Justice John Lowe today set June 6 for the examination of Rene De Meerleer, 32-year-old southern Michigan prison lifer, on murder charges reopened by the United States supreme court.

De Meerleer, who served 15 years in prison, was accused, convicted and sentenced in a single day in 1932 for the slaying of a gasoline station attendant.

The high court ordered a new trial on grounds that this "quick justice" imperilled the prisoner's constitutional rights.

TRUMPETER IS FATHER

Hollywood, May 20 (AP)—A baby girl was born today to Betty Grable, wife of trumpeter Harry James. The child, named Jessica Hames, was born by caesarean section, and Dr. George H. Harris reported both the blonde film star and baby were doing well. Jessica weighed six pounds 14 ounces. It was the couple's second daughter.

WAGE DISPUTE
OF MICHIGAN
BELL SETTLEDTIEUP WHICH BEGAN
APRIL 7 ENDED
AT 6 A. M.

Detroit, May 21 (Wednesday)—The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. agreed at 12:50 a. m. (EST) today to a return to work of all its 16,000 strikers at 6 a. m.

Negotiators said, however, that some workers might have to be sent home pending final arrangements on a restoration of full service.

The company estimated the cost of its strike-settling wage increase at more than $5,500,000 annually and Vice President Herbert F. Lange said the State Public Service Commission would be asked to authorize a rate increase.

LABOR PICTURE ROSY
The labor-management picture took on a rosy hue Tuesday.

Settlement of the last major strike in the telephone industry left the country without a single nationwide work stoppage in progress or imminent.

Previous agreements removed strike threats in various industries, including steel, automotive and electrical appliances.

The soft coal production outlook was still unsettled, but John L. Lewis has renewed negotiations with most of the nation's operators for a new contract when the government surrenders control of the pits June 30.

Michigan Bell and the Michigan Federation of Telephone Employees (Ind.) signed a contract terminating the walkout of 10,000 operators at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Other Unions Sign
An earlier agreement had been signed by 5,600 striking plant employees.

From Washington came word of settlement of the Western Electric Co. walkout, assuring a return to work of Michigan strikers. The local unionists had pledged themselves not to cross Western Electric picket lines.

Normal service for the first time since April appeared only a matter of hours, although the company warned that it depended upon the rate of return of the strikers.

Michigan Bell estimated that striking employees lost $5,500,000 in wages during the prolonged walkout. It said 3,200 others remained on the job to insure emergency service throughout the walkout.

The general pattern of settlement in Michigan called for wage increases from $3 to slightly more than $4 for plant workers and operators and traffic personnel.

The company said these terms compared "favorably with adjustments recently established in some outside industry." It said they were the equivalent of about 10 cents hourly.

The strike began April 7 with the union demanding a $12 weekly boost, which Michigan Bell said would cost it $26,000,000 annually. The employees spurned arbitration.

Big Job Ahead
After long deliberation, Michigan Bell offered $2 to $4 per

Iron River Store Is 50 Years Old

Iron River, Mich.—Early in the morning on a bright spring day 50 years ago, a North Western time freight chugged into Iron River from Watersmeet and slowed for a stop on Cayuga street.

An eager faced young man of 24 swung down from the caboose set his bag down on the station platform and soberly regarded the straggly mining and lumbering town in which he had decided to seek his fortune.

The young man's name was Barney Krom, and he had come to establish a store that would grow with the community. He stayed, the store grew, and this month, Krom's department store and its founder are celebrating a golden jubilee in Iron River.

PHONE SERVICE RESTORED HERE

78 Employees Affected In Escanaba By 44-Day Walkout

Telephone service will be restored in Escanaba at six o'clock this morning, ending the 44-day silence of local phones. The agreement, announced yesterday afternoon, provides for a minimum 53 per week increase for all employees.

Affected by the strike in the local exchange were 60 traffic employees, 12 plant employees, 4 commercial employees and two Western Electric workers engaged in the installation of new equipment.

Since the strike started on April 7, only seven supervisory employees were available to handle all of the duties at the telephone office, four of whom conducted the operations on the switchboard for emergency service.

Except for the few emergency calls handled during the 44-day strike local phones were still entirely with generous cooperation from subscribers, the local calls increased rapidly in the past few days, however, because of the earlier settlement of the phone strike in other states.

The telephone company has announced that subscribers will not be charged for local service from the period April 7 to and is LaChapelle and daughter Lynn Carol of Marinette, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Essex and daughter Joyce Ann of Battle Creek and Vital Morin of Lake Orion.

Potato producers of Delta, Menominee and other adjacent counties have been invited by the Agricultural Conservation Committee to attend a meeting at the court house in Escanaba at 7:30 p. m. Thursday to nominate members to the North Central Potato Committee which will administer potato marketing order No. 60.

The marketing order was issued in 1942 but has been inoperative during the war period. The order is designed to regulate the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and North Dakota, and provides a method of regular grading by grade, size, and quality, for all shipments of potatoes grown in the four-state area.

Potato handlers and shippers for the entire state will meet in Cadillac May 20 to nominate handlers' representatives to the committee.

Potato industry representatives have recommended operation of Order No. 60 as a means of keeping low quality potatoes off the commercial market and supplying the consumer with a better quality product.

United States Department of Agriculture officials hope that operation of the marketing order will prevent recurrence of potato surplus and waste of past years, and at the same time provide producers with a stable and adequate market for the future.

National Guard To Have Fish Fry Thursday Night

Company C, Delta county National Guard unit, will hold a "fish fry" after its regular drill at the State Fairgrounds Army tomorrow evening.

Thanks to the generosity of William Ward, commercial fisherman who also is a member of the National Guard organization, the Guardsmen will have plenty of fish for the get-together. Ward is donating the lot.

Also planned for the evening's entertainment is the showing of motion picture films with the use of the company's 16-millimeter projector, part of a supply of new equipment recently received at the Armory.

Sgt. LeRoy Erickson, unit caretaker, said yesterday he planned to contact the conservation department to procure some interesting films to show during the "fish fry."

New members will be taken in Thursday night. Anyone desiring to join is asked to be at the armory any time after 7:30 tomorrow evening.

Tax Reduction Now

SECRETARY of the Treasury Snyder's pronouncement on federal taxes confirms the suspicions of Republican congressmen that the Truman administration is opposing tax reductions now so that it can claim credit for tax reductions in the presidential election year of 1948.

Snyder declared that a period of tax reduction is approaching, but intimated that the administration still does not favor tax cuts this year. The logical deduction, of course, is that the president will propose a reduction in taxes next year, conveniently in time for the presidential election.

Taxpayers who accepted excessively high income tax rates in wartime believe that the time for tax reduction is already here and that it should come in 1947. The house has already passed legislation providing reductions totalling $4,000,000, ranging from 30 per cent to small taxpayers down to 10.5 per cent for highest incomes. The issue is now up to the senate, where sentiment is preponderant for a tax cut but divided on the extent of the reduction.

Consideration must also be given to debt retirement, particularly during periods of large periods of large national income such as the present. Our national debt has increased every year for the past 15 years and the time has arrived when the trend must be reversed to escape national bankruptcy. The New Deal notion that we need not be concerned about the national debt "because we owe it to ourselves" has been debunked by every competent economist in the country.

Illusionary Monopoly

ANDREI GROMYKO, Russia's deputy foreign minister, spoke words of truth in an address Monday night in which he declared that the United States monopoly of atomic energy production is "an illusion." Gromyko was careful to explain that he was referring not so much to the present but to the future.

The position of the Russian statesman on the atomic energy situation coincides with the viewpoint of American statesmen and scientists. Our monopoly of atomic energy is only temporary. We have a head start on the rest of the world and we intend to keep ahead of the field at least until such time as atomic power production is placed under international control under terms acceptable to this nation.

It is because we recognize the truth of Gromyko's assertion that our monopoly of atomic energy production is illusionary that we have advocated international control provide absolute guarantees of the protection of our interests and our national defense. Specifically, that means that we will not accept any international control that does not include unrestrained international inspection of atomic energy plants and potentials in every country of the world.

Gromyko and other Russian statesmen have clamored for the prohibition of atomic energy as a weapon of war. The United States also subscribes to that viewpoint, recognizing that an atomic war conceivably could result in the destruction of civilization. Before we can be sure that outlawing of atomic bombs will be real rather than imaginary, there must first be world acceptance of international controls broad enough to guarantee that atomic power will not be harnessed for military purposes. On a matter as important as this, faith alone is not sufficient.

Secret Court Martial

AN American naval lieutenant commander, E. N. Little of Decatur, Ill., is being tried by a naval court martial on charges of mistreating fellow prisoners of war in a Japanese prison camp, a trial that has been going on for two months behind closed doors before it reached public attention.

The Navy announcement of the existence of the trial was forced by a disclosure in Tokyo that affidavits were being taken from naval personnel there for use in the trial. Thus, it is just by chance that the public becomes aware of a trial that is important to the officer-enlisted man relationship of the U. S. Navy.

The trial is being conducted in secrecy behind closed doors merely because the defendant, who happens to be an officer, had requested it. It logically brings up the question whether such consideration would also have been given to a defendant who may have happened to be an enlisted man. It further brings up the question whether court martials of the importance of this one, whether involving officers or enlisted men, should be conducted in secrecy at all.

Publicity more often than not insures justice. If the defendant is not guilty of a crime to which he may be charged, he need not fear publicity. The public will judge him fairly. If he is guilty, the public is entitled to know that, too, along with the facts of his guilt.

The charges against Little are serious, involving mistreatment of his fellow prisoners in an enemy prison camp. Full publication of the evidence in this trial would be beneficial to the U. S. Navy in the long run. Also it is one means by which assurance of ultimate justice can result.

No Compulsory Insurance

COMPULSORY nationwide health insurance, as proposed by Senator Murray of Montana with the backing of President Truman, has no more chance of adoption in the present session of congress than it did in the last session.

The need for better health protection of the American people is recognized, particularly as a result of the information obtained during the war years when an unexpectedly high percentage of American manhood was rejected for military service.

Nevertheless, the public is thoroughly opposed to any compulsory health insurance plan by federal dictation and the imposition of another mandatory payroll tax. The encouragement of voluntary health insurance plans, such as that proposed by Senator Taft, with some federal health assistance is more acceptable to the general public but there is small chance of approving even that legislation in this session of congress.

The broad subject of national health is one deserving of careful study, and undoubtedly ways and means will be found in the future to assure better health protection to the rank and file of the American people. There should be no effort to cram it down the throats of the public through compulsory insurance programs, however.

FOOD AND FOREIGN POLICY (Milwaukee Journal)

The senate has voted by a tremendous majority for the $350,000,000 appropriation requested by President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall to purchase food for six foreign nations. The house backed such aid but pared the amount, so a compromise is being worked out.

The overwhelming vote in the senate, 79 to 4, plus unanimous approval of Senator Vandenberg's provision to make $75,000,000 immediately available, shows that the urgency of the problem is pretty well understood.

It seems to be realized, especially in the senate, that the United States has little choice in this matter. Much of the world is hungry or literally starving. Only the United States can provide major help.

But the reason for providing this help is not humanitarian alone. Indeed, there is probably a more important reason, so far as the future of democracy is concerned. We stand today as the leader of the nations that believe in a democratic political system. We would like to encourage that system in other countries. If we fail them today, when so many of them are suffering, that will not help the cause of democracy tomorrow.

The United States, even with all its resources and productivity, cannot feed the world indefinitely. In some places there are simply too many people for the land available, quite aside from temporary dislocation caused by war. But the United States can and must spend millions now, if only to support the flag of democracy.

There is, of course, the possibility that some day, when our aid ceases or because it is not enough to meet the need, we will be vilified. That is a chance we must take.

We must gamble that the United States and democracy will be thought of more highly for our having helped. Food for other countries today is a vital part of our foreign policy.

ACHESON'S RESIGNATION (Detroit News)

From 1941 as assistant secretary, from August, 1945, as undersecretary, Dean G. Acheson served with marked success high in the State Department through the war and since, under Secretaries Hull, Stettinius, Byrnes and Marshall. Now he has resigned.

Acheson bore responsibilities comparable with those of Cabinet members. For long periods, during absences of Secretary Byrnes and, recently while Secretary Marshall was in Moscow, he was acting Secretary of State.

His gifts for negotiation and debate served him well in diplomatic fields and in dealing for the State Department with congress. After being persuaded to change his mind twice before, in 1945 and last year, in April, this time he insisted on being relieved of his State Department duty to return to his Washington law practice.

It is what he knows that worries the Office pessimist. To face the future unafraid, says the O. P., it is necessary to face it uninformed.

HERE'S HOW THEY TALK (Radio Speech Portrait)

The Hon. Dean Acheson

Voice, well-modulated baritone of good timbre and expressiveness. The quality is not exactly what one would term "musical," but the placement is forward, producing a resonance that makes well.

Pronunciation, far above the average for lay broadcasters. His vowels are clearly formed, and his consonants are precise and definite, particularly the final "ts" and "ds" which most speakers fail to enunciate distinctly.

Style, suave, studied, and persuasive. Mr. Acheson speaks in cultured Standard American with a somewhat New Englandish flavor (he was reared in Connecticut, and educated at Yale and Harvard). His manner is self-assured, but not egotistical; intellectual, but not affected; unruffled, but not phlegmatic.

I have studied for many years the speech patterns of several men in high State Department positions. A few of them affect a manner of speaking that is as non-American as can be contrived. Why this should be, I cannot say. One former undersecretary,

World Events Analyzed

Albany, N. Y.—The turmoil in Washington over the omnibus labor bill has been felt here in tranquil Albany. The effort to push Governor Thomas E. Dewey into declaring his views on federal labor legislation has increased as the controversy over the measure itself has increased.

Part of that effort is to try to needle Dewey into saying whether he does or does not agree with the stand taken by Republican Senator Irving M. Ives of New York. Ives has opposed, and with considerable success, the so-called strengthening amendments urged in the senate by Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Thereby he has stirred the ire of right-wing Republicans in the state. They refer to him in indignant letters and angry conversation as "That New Deal Republican."

Now it is a fact that Dewey, after considerable jockeying, approved Ives for the senatorial nomination last fall. Ives was elected in the Dewey landslide. Is he, therefore, Dewey's man and does he speak for Dewey on labor legislation?

—IVES HAS PRESTIGE—

When you look into Ives' background, you see at once that this question is beside the point. Ives has been through the fire of political battle and he has emerged with a reputation for high integrity and great know-how in government. To several visitors, Dewey has expressed the belief that Ives is the best qualified man to enter the senate of the United States in many years.

Ives was in politics before Dewey was heard of. He was for many years majority leader of the upper house of the state legislature. He directed several bi-partisan investigations into the ills of our time.

One of them was on the whole problem of labor and industry. One of the things that came out of that thorough, patient investigation was the School of Industrial Relations at Cornell University, of which Ives became the first head. His stand on the omnibus labor bill was based on his knowledge and his convictions.

Dewey describes himself today as to the right of Ives, ideologically speaking. Dewey is for a labor bill that can be passed, if necessary, over President Truman's veto. Here, of course, he would seem to coincide with Ives' position, since Ives has argued repeatedly that to include a ban on industry-wide bargaining or other "tough" provisions would kill the chances for any legislation.

Another question is: Did Dewey warn Taft against putting Ives on the Senate Labor committee? That report has frequently been printed. What Dewey actually said to Taft on this subject went more or less like this:

"If you want to have your own way in the committee you had better not appoint Ives. He is a new senator and there are other committees he is interested in. On the other hand, if he wants the assignment on labor, then I am for him."

At any rate, that is the version accepted by the "Dewey Team." Ives did get the assignment and he has played such an important part in shaping the labor bill that he has distinguished himself far more than most freshman senators ever do.

—DEWEY'S LABOR VIEWS—

When he was campaigning for the presidency in 1944, Dewey made a labor speech at Seattle, Wash. In that speech he said:

"The National Labor Relations act is a good and necessary law. It acknowledges the trend of our times and will continue to be the law of the land. But that law has been working badly. It has failed to secure the industrial harmony we sought. It has failed because under the present administration, the whims of bureaucrats take the place of government by law."

Dewey would not say that today. He has moved quite a long way from such free-wheeling endorsement of the Wagner act. His labor speech was one of a series that led Democrats to apply a "Me, Too," tag to the Republican nominee.

With an overwhelmingly Republican legislature, Dewey put through at the last session a bill forbidding civil servants to strike under penalty of being fired. That brought angry denunciations from labor union chiefs.

How far Dewey would go in federal labor legislation, no one is likely to know before 1948. But talk of his repudiating Ives is a little foolish. There are those on the Dewey team acutely aware that, come '48, Ives will be a political ace in the hole should Dewey happen once again to be the Republican nominee.

ary, in particular, affected such an outrageous Lord Haw Haw accent that I could never bring myself to listen to him on the air any longer than it would take to flip the switch. Mr. Acheson's speech, I am happy to observe, wears neither the old-school tie nor a high hat.

Pronunciation, a peculiar mixture of very good and not so good. The Achesonian pronouncing pattern is one of the most interesting of the many I have made notes on.

For example, he uses the broad A (ah) in "ask," but not in the other words of the "ask" group, i.e., chance, can't, command, grasp, etc.

He rhymes the first syllable of "propaganda" with "hoe, toe," thus: PROE-puh-gan-duh (note also the erroneous first-syllable accent), a pronunciation that is without sanction in either England or America. But he does not so pronounce "progress"—he rhymes the first syllable with "cog." He employs the Britishism "JAN-yoo-ree" for "January"; but his "either" is the Standard American EE-ther, and his "been" is "bin" and not "bean." His "effort" is "EF-awrt," which is rather pompous. But he gladdens the ears with the clear and correct enunciation of GUV-ern-ment.

Score: Voice, 18; enunciation, 23; style, 25; pronunciation, 15. Total, 81. Rating, very good.

STRUT THEIR STUFF—G. A. "Gene" Hesterberg stopped at the Daily Press office a week or so ago on a matter not connected with this column, but in the course of the conversation he mentioned that he had seen sharp-tailed grouse strut their stuff in dances marking the arrival of the spring mating season.

Dunathan

"Sure, they dance," he insisted, when we expressed doubt. "I've seen them." Because he is more fully acquainted with such things than we are—Gene is employed by the game division of the conservation department—we accepted his word as truth. At the same time we asked him to prepare an article describing the dancing sharp-tailed grouse. His report on this odd manifestation of their mating season follows:

STEAL THE SHOW—Throughout the four seasons one may observe many interesting activities of the birds and animals native to this country. Springtime, however, is the period when birds seem to steal the show. Now most birds are engaged in activities incident to their reproductive cycle, a good example is the courtship performance of the male sharp-tailed grouse.

The sharp-tail, as it is commonly called, is a game bird much favored by local hunters. It is similar to the woodland grouse or partridge in size, though few bird-shooters believe it to be as tasty a table bird as the Ruffed Grouse. Sharp-tails are birds of the brushy openings, areas which have resulted from extensive uncontrolled fires of past years. This bird may be distinguished from the prairie chicken, a near relative, by its lighter color, the distinct sharp-pointed tail, and the v-shaped markings on the breast feathers. Hybrids of these two birds also occur.

ONLY MALES DANCE—In the spring of the year male birds congregate in areas frequently called dancing grounds. The dance of the male sharp-tail is a phenomenon which is associated with spring mating. It is comparable in nature with the drumming of ruffed grouse, though there are many differences between the two actions.

Dancing grounds may be located in any open cover where sharp-tails exist. Once the area is selected, the birds seem to prefer to return to that same spot. One dancing ground may be used year after year though birds may choose different locations in the area.

In the Hiawatha National Forest just north of Garth there are several such areas. Seventeen birds were observed in an opening along the Whitefish River. Birch Farm, north of Rapid River. Near Halfway lake, on the Garden Peninsula, there is another dancing ground. They seem to be scattered, hit and miss, wherever sufficient ground is still held forth. All they seem to need is a sizeable open area where they may put on their strange, but ever-interesting show.

BOW AND SCRAPE—The dancing, as a performance is at its best between five and seven o'clock in the morning. The males usually stop later in the morning, and so about their normal activity. They do not perform during inclement weather. Even the slightest drizzle may cause them to cease their dancing activity.

The group located along the Whitefish road could be described as typical, and makes for adequate description of this dance. Each male assumes a bowing position. His head is held horizontal, almost touches the ground. The tail is upright, its lower surface pure white, and the wings are stiffly stretched to the side. Two brilliant strips of feathers above each eye are slightly raised. The ruffed neck feathers display two attractive purplish pouches of skin.

LIKE AUTOMATONS—Two males were seen to maintain this position for over half an hour. At intervals of about fifteen seconds, the males would go through their dance. The tips of the wings are raked along the surface of the ground, and the tail is vibrated rapidly from side to side. The tail movement sets up a noise quite similar to that made by a large rattle. Neck feathers fluffed, head outstretched, tail up, the bird struts about on a small hummock.

The birds seemed to start this movement at the same time. Likewise they all seemed to halt at the same instant. This whole activity was comparable to a lifeline wind-up toy. A magic button was pressed and all the birds would move about in their rigid stuffed-shirt manner. Again the button is pressed, and all becomes motionless; not a ruffled feather stirs. The action is repeated time and time again. This is truly an amazing sight, especially when ten or fifteen birds are dancing in an area of only a few square yards.

At intervals one male may emit a loud, clucking sound, not unlike that made by an old hen calling to her brood. Early on a clear quiet morning, this sound as well as those incidental to the dancing by other birds, is easily heard. These sounds may lead you to the area, where you may witness the dance of the sharp-tail. A performance which, I assure you, will hold your interest for some time.

G. A. Hesterberg.

HE'S OBSERVANT—So ends Gene's report on the dancing sharp-tail. If you've never seen such a thing yourself, you're one among millions who haven't. But perhaps, like us, you're not as observant as you might be while you are in the woods. Gene is just the other way, however, and earlier this spring discovered the Canada Jay on its nest—the first time such a discovery has been made in Michigan, according to the state's leading ornithologists.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Last week's closed-door conference of Republican senators was one of the hottest in several months. It was one of the regular meetings of all GOP senators to discuss general legislative policy, and it was featured by a scrap between Ohio's Senator Bob Taft and Oregon's Wayne Morse. Finance Committee Chairman Eugene Millikin of Colorado also put his foot in it.

Pearson

In fact, Millikin paved the way for a tax reduction "be driven through." The Democrats intend to delay the tax bill until all the major appropriations are made, Millikin said, adding: "We can't be sucked in by those tactics."

"I want the support of this conference," continued the big Colorado Senator in very demanding tones. "I want to know if there is any man in this room I can't count upon to vote for immediate consideration of the tax bill."

Senator Wayne Morse, former Dean of the University of Oregon Law School and chairman of the War Labor Board, immediately rose to his feet.

"I want to say to the gentleman," replied Morse, "that here is one member of this conference from whom he can have no commitment. The people of Oregon sent me here to vote on the floor of the Senate, not in this conference."

"I want to hear the debate on the whole question before I make up my mind. There are several Democrats for whose judgment on these fiscal matters I have high regard, and I want to hear what they have to say. 'Further, I'm not yet ready to conclude that the Democrats are simply playing politics on this whole matter, while my Republican colleagues are simply concentrating upon being statesmen. I prefer to presume that all members of the United States Senate are governing their actions by what they conceive to be the public welfare.'"

—THE GENTLEMAN FROM MISSOURI— Millikin and Taft winced. They looked even more embarrassed when Missouri's serious minded Senator Forrest Donnell took the floor.

"I will never commit myself to any course of action in this conference," he said.

"I protest any attempt to turn this conference into a caucus. I think there is value to a discussion of views here, but I will not be bound. When I vote it will be on the floor, on the basis of arguments publicly made."

Millikin dodged by explaining that it was important for him to know how his colleagues might vote, so he had simply asked a question in order to get some information for himself. Donnell shot back that he was not impressed by that reply—that it had seemed to him and to others that Millikin was doing more than simply asking a question.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts supported Donnell, saying he had never heard a mere question asked in such a tone as Millikin's.

"It would be a mistake to change the nature of this conference," Lodge went on. "If we start requiring people to commit themselves, then the very good attendance we've been having is certain to fall off."

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan also agreed. He expressed concern that the effectiveness of the conference would be "hampered."

Senator Taft, however, did not agree. He jumped in to stress the need for attention to party strategy. "The leadership must know these things," he said. "No one is bound, but we must know the feeling of the conference."

West Virginia's faithful Chapman Revercomb chimed in to support Millikin, explaining the Coloradan had simply sought "your tentative opinions."

"If that is so," shot back Senator Donnell of Truman's home state, "he should have rephrased his question. That is different from demanding to know if there is any man here upon whom he can't count for support."

Donnell added that while he had not yet determined how he would vote he rather thought he would support the GOP leadership on taxes.

Maine's Owen Brewster had no doubt about his position.

"The Democrats are playing politics on this tax matter," he said. "They're coming in with a united front to capture the tax reduction bill, because we're going to win the game with it next year. Any Republican who votes with them is voting against the interest of his party and the nation."

—UNDER THE DOME—

It was Attorney General Tom Clark who tipped the balance in favor of President Truman's signing the portal-to-portal pay bill. Clark told President Truman that the portal pay bill would not destroy any of labor's basic rights. . . . President Truman will soon

Casework Methods Institute Opens UP Social Meet

The Upper Peninsula Regional Conference on social welfare and mental health got under way yesterday with an institute session on casework methods led by Mrs. Ella W. Reed of Chicago. With some 40 interested persons engaged in social welfare Mrs. Reed discussed recent trends in public welfare indicating advances toward a preventive type of welfare work, cases requiring other than economic assistance and the history of social welfare movements.

The goal of any public or private welfare work is the provision of a capacity for complete and satisfying living according to Mrs. Reed, consultant of the American Public Welfare association.

OPEN TO PUBLIC

The public is invited to attend the general session of the conference opening at 8 p. m. tonight in Escanaba junior high school auditorium. Dr. Charles M. Toy, Muskegon, director of the West Michigan Children's Center, will speak on a subject of interest to parents and the public. There is no admission charge.

Attitudes most effective in case work, psychology of human behavior with citation of examples, and a general discussion of emotional problems encountered kept the group in lively discussion in both morning and afternoon sessions.

Mrs. Reed also stated that World War I and its problems relative to the returning soldier and the depression which ensued fostered the wide social welfare program which is now in effect. Though there have been many changes in techniques, funds, and problems, the goal of any welfare organization is still to provide the capacity for a decent living to those handicapped in one way or another.

Other points elucidated by Mrs. Reed with her workshop were the philosophy of social work, resources available in communities both through individuals and organizations and the specifics of various cases such as children, adolescents or senile persons.

Mrs. Reed, an alumna of the University of Wisconsin, has served as director of social services in the Public Welfare department of Hamilton County in Ohio. The Family Service organization of America and on various study commissions in Dallas, New Orleans, San Antonio, Texas, Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and San Francisco.

Elaine Dahl and John Krause Of Bark River Wed

In a candlelight ceremony which took place Wednesday afternoon, May 14, at Salem Lutheran church in Bark River, Miss Elaine Dahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Dahl, became the bride of John Krause, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Krause. The marriage was read at four o'clock by Rev. Emory Pokrant, before an altar decorated with baskets of gladioli and snapdragons. The bridal music included "I Love You Truly," sung by Betty McNaughton; "O Perfect Love," sung by the church choir and "Because," with Audrey Bruce, soloist. Mrs. Pokrant was accompanist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a peplum styled suit dress of melon shade with a white picture hat and white accessories and she carried an all white bouquet of snapdragons and daisies. Her bridesmaid, Maurine Krause, sister of the bridegroom, wore a powder blue suit dress styled with full sleeves and an all pleated skirt. Her picture hat and accessories were white and she carried a bouquet similar to the bride's.

The bride's mother wore a gray flowered dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and Mrs. Krause wore a blue print with black accessories and a like corsage. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Gasman, of Munising, attended in a green and white print with brown accessories and she also wore a corsage of red roses.

Harlan Dahl, brother of the bride, was best man.

A wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents for immediate members of the two families. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom, centered the table, and pink and white tapers in candelabra with bouquets of gladioli and snapdragons completed the decorations.

Pet Fox Found; Had Few Hours Freedom Here (?)

Munising—A fox is known to be one of the most quick-witted of all four-legged animals running around these parts, but Norman Belko, Munising, who has made a pet of one, wonders if there isn't something fishy about his fox's disappearance Monday evening.

Working as a taxi driver in town, Norman had his pet tied up inside the local taxi stand last evening and when he had to go out on a call, left the fox inside the building tied to a post. Upon his return to the station, he found the fox missing, rope, chain and all.

The fox was about as tame as a fox can ever be, the owner reported to police and he doubted very much if the fox had run off without the help of a human being untying and carrying him away.

Disappearance of the fox occurred about midnight Monday, and after reporting the incident to the local police, Belko took a little nap in the taxi stand. When he awoke at 3 a. m., he shook his head a number of times to clear his eyes and make sure that it was the fox he saw tied up outside the building. It was, and, as a fox, he might be, he doubts whether it could tie and untie three or four half-hitches in a rope and chain within a few hours time.

Barber: "Does the razor's edge hurt, sir?"

Customer: "Can't say—but my face does."

Mother: "Bob writes from college that he's been burning the mid-nite oil for weeks."

Father: "Yes? He'll have the old bus worn out if he keeps it up?"

But you won't wear out your car if you regularly get your gas and oil here. Let us fill your tank for better car performance and lubricate it for longer, trouble-free driving. Stop in today.

Censors Are Polite On Brazil Beaches

Rio De Janeiro, (P)—This seaside capital city has a new organization—The Discreet Bathing Club—which is campaigning up and down Copacabana beach for more modest bathing suits.

Volunteer agents of the society spend hours on the beach politely asking for more conservative swimming costumes. They even offer to donate garments that meet their standards.

The club chairman told the press: "The aim of the club is to moralize our beaches, especially fighting the use of indecent bathing suits. We don't ask that suits come down to the knees as some people facetiously say, but we don't allow girls in two-piece suits." The club has fifty members.

MANISTIQUE

Local Man Soloist On Nation-Wide Program

A former Manistique resident will headline a program on a nationwide hookup Saturday afternoon, May 31.

Paul Peterson

The man is Paul Peterson, son of Mrs. Ida Peterson, 138 Cedar street, and he will be soloist in the broadcast of the Piedmont Festival of Music and Art and the Salem College and Salem Academy 175th anniversary which will go on a coast-to-coast broadcast over the NBC.

Featured on the radio program will be a part of the cantata "Songs of the Wilderness," especially written for the occasion by Paul Green, famed poet and playwright and Pulitzer prize winner.

The soloist, Paul Peterson, baritone, is voice professor and head of the voice department at Salem college. Mr. Peterson, who is serving his first year at Salem, received his B. M. degree in voice from the Eastman School of Music, Rochester, N. Y., and his M. M. degree from Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill. During the war he was a chaplain's assistant in the U. S. Navy and was stationed at Tunisia.

Dredge Brings To Surface Anchor Of Outmoded Type

Davy Jones' locker in the Manistique harbor, now being probed by the U. S. Government dredge Winnebago, has given up several scow loads of rocks of different shapes and sizes and a few dead-end logs, but Monday, while probing the harbor bottom near the east shore, the huge shovel brought to the surface something quite out of the ordinary.

The find was a broken anchor believed to have been part of the equipment of an old time sailing vessel. At any rate, it is of a type that has not been in use for more than half a century.

Whether this particular piece of scrap iron was the cause of some of the mishaps that have occurred in the harbor from time to time, no one as yet can say, but the piece estimated to weigh about a ton is capable of causing considerable damage.

The present dredging activity is not a part of the extensive harbor deepening operations recently announced, but is routine work, the chief objective being to clear the harbor bottom of obstructions which might be a menace to deep draft vessels.

The first special feature will be the presentation and dedication of a new set of red altar paraments. Mrs. Thor Reque will make the presentation in behalf of the Ladies' Aid society of the congregation and Rev. G. A. Herbert, the pastor, will officiate at the dedication. New coverings for the kneelers and chancel chairs will also be dedicated.

Members of the class confirmed last Sunday will receive their first communion next Sunday. There will also be confirmation of adults and the receiving of new members. Rev. Herbert will give the message on the theme, "Somebody Offers You A Drink."

4 SEEK SCHOOL BOARD POSTS

Voters Must Register In Order To Cast Ballots

A spirited school election is in the offing.

With nominations closed, four outstanding Manistique citizens are in the race for the two positions on the board to be voted on June 6. The candidates are Elmer Lundstrom, incumbent; Mrs. Hil-dred Taylor, Adam Heinz and Dr. George Shaw.

Voting in this election (which does not involve voting of school taxes) is open to any resident of the city who is a citizen of the United States, over 21 years of age and a resident of the state for six months as well as of the school district 20 days prior to the date of election.

Voters, however, in order to cast their vote, must register and the time for registration is limited between the hours of 3 and 8 o'clock on the afternoons and evenings of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 22, 23 and 24. Residents on the West Side are asked to register at the Lincoln school and those residing on the East Side of town will register at Lakeside school.

While it has not been designated where voters may register in these schools, they are urged to knock at the first door and ask where they may register.

The candidates also urge that in spite of the fact Lakeside school is on a far end of the town for many residents, everyone should make a special effort to participate in this election.

It has long been possible to install a television set in combination with telephones so that each speaker can see the other, but the devices are too costly for general use.

Upper Peninsula High School Track Meet Here Next Saturday

293 ATHLETES WILL COMPETE

Escanaba Host To U. P. Event For 1st Time; 35 Schools

Two hundred and ninety-three contestants from 35 high schools will compete in the annual Upper Peninsula high school track and field championship meet to be held at the Escanaba athletic field for the first time next Saturday morning and afternoon.

Transferred to Escanaba because of the heavy postwar enrollment at Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, traditional site of the U. P. track classic for many years, the 1947 meet will see 106 athletes from 13 schools competing for titles in classes B, C, D, E and F. The meet will see 106 athletes from 13 schools competing for titles in classes B, C, D, E and F.

The roster of eligible participants is made up of all those who qualified in district meets held last Saturday in Marquette, Marquette, Wakefield and Baraga.

Menominee Looks Strong Track fans looking for a favorite in Class B, the title of which is currently held by Ironwood high school, are busy comparing the times and distances recorded in the district meets in Menominee and Marquette.

In only four of the 13 events, does the winning time or distance in the Marquette meet better than in the corresponding event in the Menominee affair, the latter therefore coming out on top in nine of the 13. All of which indicates the Menominee Maroons will be the team to beat in the Upper Peninsula championship here Saturday.

With one lone exception, Iron River's 4:09.2 in the 400-yard dash against Menominee's 4:19.2, the marks in the Wakefield district meet were bettered by marks recorded in both the Menominee and district meets. All of which indicates the Ironwood-Iron River combines will have to hump it to get into the Class B championship picture.

Meet Opens At 9:45 Teams represented in Class B and the number of contestants for each, exclusive of relay team members, are as follows: Calumet 21 (unopposed in district), Escanaba 9, Graveland (Marquette) 3, Ironwood 13, Iron Mountain 5, Ishpeming 4, Iron River 12, Kingsford 2, Menominee 14, Marquette 7, Negaunee 1, Newberry 6 and Sault Ste. Marie 7.

Class C schools and number of contestants are Baraga 4, Crystal Falls 5, Gwin 7, Gladstone 7, Houghton 6, Hancock 3, L'Anse 9, Munising 13, Ontonagon 4, St. Ambrose (Ironwood) 4, Stephenson 8 and Wakefield 18.

Class D-E schools and number of participants for each are Alpha 10, Chassel 19, Channing 3, Eben 10, Eben 10, J. D. Pearce (Marquette) 11, Powers 17, Rapid River 2, Rock 12 and Trout Creek 5.

The meet will get underway at 9:45 a. m. Eastern Standard time with preliminaries in the 120-yard high hurdles in all classes and finals in the shot put in Class D-E, high jump in B and C, pole vault in B and D-E and broad jump in Class C only.

One hundred and 220-yard dash and 200-yard low hurdles preliminaries in all classes will be held in the morning, beginning at 10.

District Softball Meets Slated For Ripley, Ishpeming

Upper Peninsula district softball tournaments were awarded to Ripley in district No. 4 and Ishpeming in district No. 2 at the U. P. Softball association meeting in Negaunee, the Rev. A. Schabow, association secretary, announced here yesterday.

George O'Rourke was named commissioner of the Copper Country district. The next meeting will be held in Ishpeming July 20 at 2 p. m.

"Unsportsmanlike conduct will not be tolerated on the part of any players affiliated with the U. P. softball association," Rev. Schabow said. "It was discussed at great length at the Negaunee meeting and stern measures will be taken to deal with any violators of sportsmanlike conduct regulations."

The Sports Parade

BY JIM WARD

Edward Edick, Escanaba high school principal, and Jim Rouman, athletic director and coach, are busy this week with plans for the Upper Peninsula high school track and field meet to be held at the city high school athletic field and stadium next Saturday morning and afternoon.

The project is a big undertaking and considerable detailed planning must go into the staging of a meet of this size—370 athletes from 35 schools in the Upper Peninsula will be here to compete for championship honors in classes B, C and D-E combined.

It marks the first time the event has ever been held in Escanaba.

RED SOX WHIP TIGERS, 8-3

Champions Win Behind Dobson; Williams Gets 10th Homer

Boston, May 20 (AP)—The American League Champion Red Sox today climbed within one game of the pace setting Tigers by defeating the Detroiters 8-3 behind Joe Dobson, who had little difficulty from the second to the ninth.

The Sox scored seven of their runs in less than three innings off Starter Paul (Dizzy) Trout, who was the victim of poor support in a couple of instances.

canaba, the meet being traditionally a fixture at Michigan Tech in Houghton. But it was transferred to Escanaba, where facilities are of the best, because of overcrowded conditions at Tech, whose enrollment is its heaviest in history.

The four district Class B champions are Menominee, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood and Calumet, a n d Menominee re-ins as the favorite to win the Upper Peninsula championship. The Maroons copped the district meet in Menominee last Saturday by a wide margin, greater than that with which Soo and Ironwood won their respective district meets at Marquette and Wakefield. Calumet was unopposed at Baraga but is not rated on a par with Soo, Ironwood and Menominee.

Menominee's margin in the district was 99 1/2 points to 53 for Escanaba in second place. Ironwood won with 69 2-5 points to 45 3-5 for Iron River in second place. Soo copped the top spot with 48 points, and Newberry was second with 24 1-2 counters. And Calumet waited in with 54 points without any opposition in Class B, which is pretty nice work if you can get it.

So, if you're looking for a favorite, you need look no further than the Maroons who are red hot on the track this season with a well-balanced squad.

The Maroons qualified 19 men, which means they're a cinch to pick up plenty of much-needed place and show points, usually the determining factor in these affairs. Soo qualified 12 men, and figures for Ironwood are unavailable. As far as Calumet is concerned, even with a full house the Copper Country lads will not worry Soo, Ironwood or Menominee a great deal.

District Class C winners were Gladstone at Menominee, Munising at Marquette, L'Anse at Baraga and Wakefield at Wakefield.

District Class D-E winners were Powers at Menominee, Eben at Marquette, Chassel at Baraga and Alpha at Wakefield.

So there you have it in a nutshell, and as soon as the pony express arrives from Baraga and Wakefield, we'll give you some comparative times and distances in the various events to mull over between now and Saturday.

2 Junior Baseball Teams Will Battle Tomorrow Afternoon

Interest in junior baseball is finally booming in Escanaba, Jerome Deloria, who is in charge, said yesterday in announcing the next scheduled game to be held at Royce Park after school tomorrow between the John's Grocer nine and Lieungh Music Store.

Grocers slated to play are Allen Martin, Jack Beauchamp, Jimmy Meiers, Ernie Sheeldo, David Sutherland, Dick Larsen, Billy Thamel, Gordon Haddy, Richard Weycker, Harold Martin and Jack Smith.

Musical baseballers are Tom and Richard Cass, Michael and Stanley Venne, Richard Hengesh, Ernest Dart, Kenneth McCarthy, David Harriethal, Jack Bink, Benny Brower, Chuck Cloutier and Pauly Hansen.

In view of the large number of recent entries, it is planned to hold two schools a week. Deloria and his associates, the most recent of whom is Bob Dufour, plan to provide league play for youngsters of all ages this summer, including one for five to 10-year-olds.

Baseball schools will be held at Webster park Friday afternoons from 4 to 6 and Royce park from 10 to 12 a. m. All players will play three innings of each league game, thus providing substitutes a chance to learn baseball and improve their technique.

BIRDIE FINALLY GOES TO BOSTON

At Long Last, Tebbetts Leaves Tiges In Swap For Wagner

Boston, May 20 (AP)—After a year of reports that the Boston Red Sox and Detroit Tigers were engineering a deal to bring Catcher George (Birdie) Tebbetts to Boston, the two clubs completed the trade late today.

In a straight player swap, the 32-year old Birdie, from Nashua, N. H., comes to the Sox for Catcher Hal Wagner, 31, who has been with the Boston club since May 7, 1944.

Tebbetts, a product of Providence (R. I.) college, spent 1934 with New Bedford in the New England league, was with Springfield in the Three-I league the next season and with Beaumont in the Texas league in 1935 and 1936.

He caught 10 games for the Tigers in 1936 and has been with them ever since except for more than three years in the Army air corps.

Wagner, from East Riverton, N. J., broke in with Portsmouth in the Piedmont league in 1937 and belonged to the Philadelphia Athletics until traded to the Sox for Ford Garrison in 1944.

He spent seasoning time with Spartanburg in the South Atlantic league and with Newark in the International. He finished up the 1939 season with the Athletics and remained with them until traded to Boston. He spent part of 1944 and all of 1945 in the Army.

Both Red Sox Manager Joe Cronin and Detroit Pilot Steve O'Neill, who have been huddling off and on here for three days, said they were "satisfied" over the swap.

So far this season Tebbetts has produced only five hits in 51 times at bat for an average of .098, scoring one run and batting in two. Wagner has 15 hits in 65 times up for a .231 average with five runs batted-in.

Frey's Bingle With Bases Loaded Wins For Cubs In 11th

Chicago, May 20 (AP)—A single in the 11th inning by Lonnie Frey with the bases loaded gave the Chicago Cubs a 3 to 2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies and lifted the Cubs into a tie for first place.

Clyde McCullough launched the 11th inning rally with a double to right and Nicholson beat out a bunt for his third hit. Tom Hughes relieved Ken Raffensberger and purposely passed Don Johnson to fill the bases. Hughes then got Sturgeon on a short fly but Frey lined his second pitch to center to score McCullough.

Escanaba Fans Get A Break! Bears To Play Manistique Here Sunday

The Escanaba Bears baseball club, originally scheduled to play at Manistique next Sunday, will entertain the Manistique team at the City diamond in Escanaba instead, it was announced yesterday by Manager John Schwalbach.

The Bears have agreed to reverse the home and home schedule with the Manistique team because the new diamond being constructed in the Schoolcraft county seat is not yet ready for play. The Bears will play at Manistique on Aug. 10, a date originally scheduled as a home game for the Escanaba team.

The proposal advanced by the Manistique team to change the site of Sunday's Rainbow league battle to Escanaba was readily accepted by the Bears not only because of a desire to cooperate with the Manistique club, but also to bring the Escanaba schedule into proper balance.

The Bears were scheduled to play away from home for three successive Sundays and then to play at home for three weeks in August.

Last Sunday the Bears made their entry into the Michigan Rainbow league with an easy 8-4 victory over Chatham. Manistique dropped its opener to the Gladstone Redskins at Gladstone, 4 to 1, the Redskins scoring all of their tallies in the sixth inning.

Manager Schwalbach reported yesterday that the Bears will practice this evening and Friday evening at the City diamond.

Kingsford To Play Eskymos Thursday

The Escanaba Eskymo baseball team, carrying a .500 rating with two victories and two losses to date, will be host to the Kingsford nine at City diamond Thursday afternoon. The game will start at 4:15.

Escanaba last Monday afternoon played errorless ball in defeating Negaunee on the latter's diamond, 11-5. Prior to that, the Eskymos had lost to Iron Mountain, 4-3, 9-4, and defeated Negaunee here, 2-1.

Important Softball Meeting Thursday

Manistique, May 20—An important meeting of the Manistique Softball League at 7:30 Thursday evening at the information center is announced by the league president, John Matthews. An important change in the rules is the primary matter of business to be considered and acted upon.

Notice is also given by the league president that entrance fees of $5 should be paid this week to Everett Anderson.

Women Golfers Start Play This Afternoon

Escanaba Golf club women golfers will open their summer competitive season at the course this afternoon with six teams of 14 members each meeting in nine-hole handicap match play. Pairings will be the same as those published last Sunday and will be posted on the clubhouse bulletin board. Following the matches, supper will be served at 6:30.

Cubs Think Jackie Has Lot To Learn

Chicago, May 20 (AP)—As far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned, Brooklyn's Jackie Robinson has a lot to learn about big league hitting and first-basing.

In five games against the Bruins, the fleet negro star has denied their pitching for one hit in 19 trips—a feeble .053 percentage.

"We call pitches against Robinson just like we do any other hitters," said Catcher Clyde McCullough, "but he is having a lot of trouble with our breaking stuff. He lunges and slaps at the ball, so we keep him on the hook most of the time."

Naturally the Cubs didn't offer any batting suggestions to a player belonging to their hated rivals, "Dem Bums" but they all had a hint for Robinson afled:

"Keep your tagging foot off the middle of the bag."

The Cubs said Robinson, during Brooklyn's two-game stand here Sunday and yesterday, took infield throws with his foot plopped squarely in the center of first base.

Center fielder Andy Pafko said: "The runner has the right of way going over first and Robinson can avoid a possible spiking if he keeps his foot on the side of the sack."

Robinson, who currently is batting .276 for the season, collected his sole hit against the Cubs, a double, at Brooklyn where the Dodgers took two out of three from Chicago debut, the former U. C. L. A. football star was the main attraction for a modern Wrigley field record attendance of 46,572 Sunday and for an unusual Monday throng of 21,875, but he went hitless in four official appearances each day.

"We just try to make Robinson another out when he comes up," summed McCullough, "and so far we've had a lot of success."

Muncrief Holds A's To Four Safeties; Browns Win, 11 to 1

Philadelphia, May 20 (AP)—Behind the four-hit pitching of Bob Muncrief the St. Louis Browns today coasted to their first victory in five games this season with the Philadelphia Athletics, 11-1.

The Browns clinched the game in the first inning by scoring three runs on two singles, a walk, a force and a triple by Al Zarilla. The A's only run stemmed from two singles and an infield out in the fourth.

Bob Savage, who won three games last week, had his streak snapped by seven runs on seven hits, including three-baggers by Zarilla and Walt Judnich. The Athletics relief hurler, Rookie Bill McCahan, yielded six more safeties in the last five innings. It was Muncrief's third victory. Savage's second defeat.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, May 20 (AP)—The cattle market was mostly steady today, veering to a quarter higher on slaughter steers and heifers and to a quarter lower on cows and bulls. There were no strictly choice offerings available.

There was active trading in the slaughter steers and heifers classes, but cows and bulls were slow. Good and choice veal calves were steady, but lower grades dropped from 50 cents to $1 lower than yesterday's average. Two loads of average choice 1,150-lb. fed steers brought $26.25. The top of $27 was paid on good and choice yearlings, which ranged from $24 to $27.

Most medium to low choice fed steers sold at $21.50 to $25.50, with strictly good and choice fed heifers bringing $24 to $24.65. Stock cattle were scarce in a strong market.

There was good clearance of the hog supplies of 8,600 salables and 4,000 consignments, with shippers taking 500. Although weights under $40 and opened slow and around 25 to 50 cents lower than yesterday, trade picked up later and most sales finished about 25 cents lower. Weightier offerings and a few were uneven, but active and generally steady. The top price was $23.75.

Sheep were scarce, but a few woolled lambs and slaughter ewes were quoted as steady.

Total receipts were 1,600 cattle, 1,600 calves and 1,000 sheep.

Farmyard experts have thickened the egg's white for better cooking.

Some of the crates of the moon have been found to be 100 miles across.

The new AAF XB-46 will have four jet propulsion engines.

YOUTH ADMITS ROBBERIES HERE

Burglaries, Car Thefts
Confessed By Vernal
Olson, Age 17

Sheriff William E. Miron, last night said that Vernal Olson, 17, of Pine Ridge, had confessed that he had burglarized four Escanaba business places and had stolen and abandoned four automobiles in a period of 11 days ending March 31.

Olson has been held in jail here since Friday following his return from Cleveland, O., where he was arrested by Cleveland police on a warrant charging him with breaking and entering the Kessler sport shop in Escanaba March 23, the first in the series of confessed burglaries.

On Saturday last week Olson denied the charge in Justice Henry Raugette's court and asked examination. Yesterday Sheriff Miron said that Olson volunteered a confession after being confronted by witnesses who identified the youth as disposing of articles stolen in Escanaba.

The sheriff said that Olson confessed that he had thrown several watches and other articles into Lake Huron while employed on the steamer Clement A. Reiss after he left Escanaba.

In the confession the youth said that he and George Shields, 23, of St. Jacques, had participated in the burglary of the Kessler sport shop, with Shields acting as the "lookout." On the same date they had been together in entering Wahl's drug store, but had gotten nothing. Shields was arrested earlier, waived examination on breaking and entering the Kessler shop and is held in jail for trial in circuit court. Shields did not participate in any other burglaries with Olson, the sheriff said Olson confessed.

On March 26 Olson entered the People's drug store, on March 28 the Goodman drug store and the Wahl drug store again, his confession stated. Reported missing at Kessler's was seven watches and other articles, at Wahl's 12 watches and $15 in cash, at Goodman's $5 or $6, and at the People's drug store about $100.

Continuing his confession to the sheriff, Olson said that on March 29 he had stolen a car owned by J. Smith from where it was parked at the North Western station in Escanaba and drove it to Pine Ridge. There he abandoned it and drove away another car which he abandoned at Flat Rock after it became stuck in the mud. At Flat Rock he stole another car, drove it to Pine Ridge and abandoned it.

The last car theft to which Olson confessed was on March 31 when he drove away a car in North Escanaba owned by Francis Breaux. This car was also abandoned on a sandy side road at Pine Ridge.

Divorce Question In Italy Will Be Decided At Polls

AP Newsfeatures
Rome — Already bristling with political parties, the Italian republic is threatened with yet another: that knows exactly what it wants—divorce.

Its proponents have not been deterred by recent constituent assembly action that included in the republic's constitution an article proclaiming marriage indissoluble in Italy.

Instead, the MID (Italian Movement for Divorce) announced it was considering taking its fight to the polls.

Its president, Lollo Pacciardi, claims the movement represented the desires of more than 2,000,000 people.

"There are," he says, "984,000 legally separated couples in Italy, and thousands more living apart."

Except for the few who have both time and money to travel to a neighboring country where marriage laws are less stringent, there is no legal method for them to obtain a divorce.

For years a subject of debate, the divorce movement in Italy has been intensified since the monarchy was ousted and the republic voted a little less than a year ago.

State Bill To Kill Pari-Mutuels Dies

Lansing, May 20 (P) — A bill which would have prohibited pari-mutuel betting on horse races in the state died today in a House committee.

Rep. Bert J. Storey, chairman of the State Affairs committee, said his group had voted against reporting it out.

An outgrowth of some senators and Clarence E. Lehr, president of the Detroit Racing Association, the bill was passed last week in the Senate.

committee reported out the senate-approved measure for that purpose.

The committee, headed by the principal proponent of the increase, Rep. A. P. Decker, Decker-ville Republican, set the distribution formula at a third each for the state, counties and municipalities.

But the House, after once agreeing with the committee, reversed itself and restored the senate distribution formula which would give the state 25 per cent, and the cities and counties each 37½ per cent.

The House measure, which was turned down 41-51, provided that $2,500,000 of the estimated $24,000,000 resulting from the increase would go first to the counties. The remainder would be distributed 36 per cent to the state and 32 per cent to the counties and municipalities.

Total Sun Eclipse Watched In Brazil By U. S. Scientists

Bocaina, Brazil, May 20. (P) — Clear weather gave a party of United States scientists an unobstructed view today of nature's most spectacular celestial show—the total eclipse of the sun.

While clouds and mist obscured the phenomenon in many sections of the southern hemisphere, the observers gathered on a wooded plateau here, 400 miles north of Rio De Janeiro, found conditions perfect as the moon began to edge in front of the sun at 8:22:36 a. m. (6:22:36 a. m., CDT).

The eclipse became total here at 9:34:48 a. m., turning the brilliant day into an eerie, star-studded twilight.

The moon continued to blot out the sun for almost four minutes.

Dr. C. C. Kiess, of the U. S. Bureau of standards, said full results of the tests would not be known until films were developed and data coordinated but that he believed the observations generally were very successful.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 20 (P) —The familiar figure of the family doctor may disappear from the American scene soon.

So declared Dr. Walter A. Bloedorn of George Washington University Medical School in a speech to the University of Michigan conference of graduate and postgraduate medical education.

Dr. Bloedorn said 53 per cent of the nation's doctors now are specialists while approximately 80 per cent of the country's medical students want to become specialists.

He declared the family physician "probably has no counterpart today" and urged that medical schools "dignify" the practice of general medicine.

SCHOOLS PLANT 18,500 TREES

Delta - Menominee Tree
Planting Program
Over For 1947

Following the planting of 1,500 Norway (red pine) trees in the Harris township school forest this morning the 1947 school forest planting program will end, with a total of 18,500 Norway and jack pine planted within the past few weeks. It was reported yesterday by Eric Engman, extension forester for Delta and Menominee counties.

In the tree planting this spring there will be a total of 12,000 trees set out in school forests in Menominee county, and 6,500 in Delta county. The Delta county school forest planting was completed Tuesday when 500 trees were planted by Soo Hill school sixth and seventh grade students.

Mrs. Ruth Rouse, Soo Hill school teacher, and Engman directed the first-year planting at Soo Hill, and Mrs. Rouse expressed the hope that if the trees make a successful stand this year the school board will be encouraged to establish a permanent school forest.

A summary of tree planting for the two counties shows that in Menominee county school forests at Stephenson, Raggett, Carney and Harris each received 3,000 trees; and in Delta county Rapid River and Garden school forests were each planted with 3,000 additional trees, and an initial planting of 500 trees was made at Soo Hill.

Engman believes that more schools in both counties may sponsor school forest tree planting projects next year. Engman's office is located in the court house at Escanaba.

Nineteen Parachute From Burning B-29; All Landed Safely

Abilene, Tex., May 20 (P) — Nineteen Army fliers parachuted safely from a burning B-29 Superfortress tonight before it crashed in flames near Merkel, Tex., 16 miles west of here.

Master Sgt. Don Ellis, 26, of Paris, Tex., suffered a broken right arm when he landed in a tree. No other injuries were reported.

The plane was afire as it streaked over Sweetwater, Tex., in the early dusk tonight. Police, firemen and citizens of the surrounding countryside immediately turned out in a widespread search for the men, who started bailing out about 20 miles west of where the plane crashed.

What will become of the federalation remains to be seen. It started out with demands for a $12 a week increase but reduced week. The union reduced its demands to $6 and eventually, with aid of state and federal conciliators, the final terms were thrashed out in day and night conferences.

Almost daily the company reported damage to its equipment, although only a small percentage was traced directly to strikers.

However, the Michigan legislature passed an amendment stiffening penalties against utility workers who tampered with equipment and a handful of strikers faced court action under these regulations.

Outcome of their cases remained in doubt although settlement terms provided against discrimination and the company, in a statement, said it welcomed "all employees back to the big job ahead."

Dial telephone service remained generally unaffected during the strike but manual systems were hard hit. Long distance service was placed on an emergency basis and fell off to only a small fraction of normal volume.

One of the most noticeable effects of the strike was the almost complete breakdown in urban areas of pay phone service. Machines became clogged with coins early in the strike.

AVERAGE RAISE $4

Washington, May 20 (P) — The last major dispute in the telephone industry was settled today, signaling the end of the cross-country strike.

The settlement was on the basis of an 11½ cent-an-hour average wage increase (or an estimated $4.60 a week) for 20,000 members of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, employees of the Western Electric Company in 42 states.

They walked out April 7 along with other telephone workers across the country. At one time the strikers were estimated to number 340,000 but in recent weeks the strike has been tapering off, with agreements being reached for one group after another.

The pattern took definite shape May 6 when the National Federation of Telephone Workers freed the 39 striking unions to bargain on their own for the best deals they could get. This loose federation of 49 unions had hoped to become one big telephone union and up until May 6 required that it pass on any agreement.

What will become of the federalation remains to be seen. It started out with demands for a $12 a week increase but reduced the demand to $6 on April 25 to fit the pattern of wage increases in other industries — 15 cents an hour.

Many of the agreements were for a $2 to $4 wage increase, with some higher. The average appeared to be about $3.50 or $4.

In addition to the flat boost, there was a sprinkling of "fringe" wage adjustments, covering related demands, which the NFW estimated would average about $1 a week per striker.

Government figures show telephone workers averaged around $44.00 a week before the increase.

Wounded Veteran Shoots Wife And Parents, Kills Self

Lansing, May 20 (P) — Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Ronald E. Williams, 26, Purple Heart war veteran, who died Sunday of self-inflicted wounds after he fired a fusillade of shots at his estranged wife and her parents.

His wife, Mrs. Vivian Jean Williams, 19, was released from the hospital Tuesday. Her parents, Selon S. Struble, 44, and Lucy Struble, 39, remained in a serious condition according to attendants at the Edward W. Sparrow hospital.

Police said Williams fired the shots when he became enraged because his wife refused to return to live with him.

Engineer Falls Off Locomotive, Killed At Plymouth, Ind.

Plymouth, Ind., May 20 (P) — Frank H. Ritcha, 61, veteran railroad engineer from Fort Wayne, was killed today when he fell from the locomotive of the Pennsylvania railroad's Golden Triangle train as it sped through here, bound for Chicago.

Division railroad officials here said Ritcha apparently was struck by the Chicago-to-New York Trail Blazer as the two trains met at full speed 600 yards west of the Plymouth station.

The fireman, C. J. Wappes, who took over the controls and stopped the train, said he saw Ritcha hanging onto a bar for a moment before he lost his grip and slipped off the apron at the cab entrance. The body was found between the double tracks.
